Instrumental composer, songwriter, and Imrat guitar innovator Todd Mosby is a storyteller and a landscape artist. He uses the guitar to whisk listeners away to a borderless realm where jazz, jazz fusion, bossa-nova and folk-rock create transporting and transformative experiences.

Land of Enchantment is a gorgeous look at the visual, emotive, spiritual and cultural interactions of the American Southwest thru Mosby's lens.

Album highlights include "Place In The Sun," "Moonrise Samba," and "Georgia's World."

"Place In The Sun", exudes a sense of spirituality and joyous mystery, including dreamy Sérgio Mendes-style female vocals and 1970s jazz-fusion musicality. On "Moonrise Samba," Todd showcases his strong melody writing and penchant for intriguing Steely Dan-esque chord sequences. The picturesque "Georgia's World" is a tribute to Georgia O' Keefe's life and times in New Mexico, boasting satiny Wes Montgomery octaves, a slinky bossa-nova groove and sultry female melody vocals. Todd also turns in a stunning reading of the Beatles' "Norwegian Wood" replete with virtuosic micro-tonal soloing on his Imrat guitar and a dreamy version of Jimmy Web'ds "By The Time I Get To Phoenix."

Coming along for the ride are A-list musicians such as drummer Vinnie Colaiuta (Herbie Hancock, Jeff Beck, Frank Zappa); pianist Dapo Torimiro (Frank Ocean, Lauryn Hill); vocalist Laura Vall (Stevie Wonder); bassist Timothy Bailey (Ariana Grande); cellist Adrienne Woods (Ariana Grande, Josh Groban); two-time Grammy winning producer Jeff Weber (Diane Reeves, Freddie Hubbard, David Crosby); and Emmy and Grammy-winning engineer Clark Germain (Michael Jackson, Wayne Shorter, Tina Turner).
